FR. NICK'S MESSAGE

Setting Aside the Cares of this Life

There is no question that the pace of life has quickened both at work and at home. More and more is being added on to our plate and more is expected from us. Although we are told that in this era of ipods, voicemail, and email our lives would be easier, we suspect otherwise. We also see this with our children's activities which often exhaust us and our resources, turn us into chauffeurs and activity coordinators. Managing our busy lives, worrying about tomorrow and overseeing the "cares of this life," can be truly challenging.

The Lord knows this. He knows our needs and knows the challenges we face in our everyday lives. For this reason, He set a day for rest. The Lord's Day, the Sabbath, the Seventh Day, was set aside to rejuvenate the body and fill the soul. It is a day when we are to "set aside the cares of life," as the beautiful hymn of the Divine Liturgy reminds us, and to focus on our relationship with God and each other. It is the one day the Lord has set aside to be fully present in Him, and we are invited to be with Him.

Sunday worship and the Divine Liturgy are important ingredients toward realizing this goal. However, some feel that "going to church" is a chore and feel more "compelled" to go rather than in the spirit of the psalmist, be able to say, "O Lord, I have loved the beauty of your house and the place where your glory dwells." We come to His house each Sunday to hear His word, to pray with others who share the faith, to receive and be reminded of His many blessings. If we come fully prepared, we will stand ready before Him asking that He stir our hearts as we commit our whole life to Christ, who now seeks to dwell within us through His Body and His Blood!

What then are we missing when all that is said above never settles into our hearts and our minds? What benefit is gained when we arrive, sadly, at the last moment? How have, indeed, "the cares of this life" crowded out that "one needful thing," the desire to be with God? We expect and ask so much from Him as we offer up our requests and prayers especially in times of trouble and need, yet He does not occupy the place of honor and priority that He truly deserves. "I am the way and the truth and the life," He tells us. Is He really the "way and the truth and the life" for us?

Perhaps this New Ecclesiastical Year, we can reclaim Sunday to be His day—the Lord's Day. "Let us set aside the cares of this life" and begin by coming to Church at the very beginning to experience what God desires of us, to Worship and Glorify Him. Let us not neglect what is most beneficial, most important to our souls, by choosing the fleeting and material over the eternal and spiritual. Only God's Presence can help us do that.

*With Love in Our Lord,
 Fr. Nick*

WELCOMING A NEW YEAR OF GRACE:
SEPT. 1, THE BEGINNING OF THE ECCLESIASTICAL YEAR

Maker of the Universe, O Lord who alone have power over seasons and times: bless this year with your bounty, preserve our country in safety and keep your people in peace, through the prayers of the Mother of God, and save us.

HOW DO WE ELEVATE THE CROSS IN OUR OWN LIVES?

THE EXALTATION OF THE HOLY CROSS: SEPT. 14

‘To Your Blessed Cross,
O Christ, we come,

And falling down,
adore You,

And humbly make confession full of all our sins before You.’

We live at a time when many find it difficult to find the right way to live. Many are lost. The world tells us that money, power, fame, pleasure, and the like are the really important things in life. But the Cross reminds us that this is not so, that such things give a distorted picture of life. Morality, purity, honesty, virtue, faith, trust and love, these are the ingredients that make for a meaningful and truly happy life. And these are the virtues that the Cross stands for.

The Cross is our guide in making decisions. During life’s journey, we often come to crossroads and we have to decide which path of life to take. As we ponder life’s work, life’s partner, and the countless other decisions, it will help to seek light from the Cross of Christ.

The Cross is our guide in sickness and pain. Remember that no person has suffered as Jesus suffered—He who was very God of very God, and yet bore the agony of rejection and crucifixion. He not only suffered in body but in soul as He took upon Himself the burden of humanity’s sin. Believing Christians have always turned to the Cross in times of sickness and pain and they have found strength and help there.

The Cross is our guide in times of sorrow. It is always difficult to bid farewell to a beloved parent, child or friend who has died. But the empty Cross serves to remind us that Christ rose from the dead and is victor over the grave. It is to the Cross that we come, heeding Christ’s words: “Come unto Me all you that are burdened and heavy laden and I will give you rest ...” (Matt. 11:28-29).

And so, let the Cross of Christ be our guide in life. Let us elevate it within our hearts, seeking guidance, help and direction as we make our way through the years of our earthly journey.

PROSFORA MINISTRY: A HOLY OFFERING

For each Sunday, Prosfora (offering bread) is prayerfully made by members of our community and brought to the Altar before services begin. Part of this bread becomes the Holy Eucharist—other parts become the blessed “Antidoron” that we receive at the end of the Liturgy. When our priests utilize our Prosfora, they pray for us and all the members of our family and loved ones, those living and passed away. They ask God to keep and preserve us through hardship and disappointment, through physical and emotional struggles. This offering bread, made with our own hands, becomes a symbol of the love of Christ for us all and the connection between every member of our parish family. It is a powerful reminder that we are all under His care, that none of us walks alone. Contact Christina Booth Steele to learn more: boothsteele@rcn.com.

BUILDING ON OUR FAITH

A SACRIFICIAL GIFT

Not long after you read this article in the September Vine, you will be receiving for the first time your pledge card that will invite you to participate in, without doubt, one of the most significant undertakings in the proud fifty year history of St. Demetrios Church. This is one of the moments upon which our spiritual future will pivot.

It is fair to say, we are all aware that this moment has been coming. The moment when we must think carefully about the participation of each of our families in this grand undertaking and deliberate—with our spouses, children, parents and grandparents—the real meaning of building our new Church that will reflect the unbroken 2000 year Orthodox traditions that bind us all.

When we turn our gaze upon our young ones, what do we consider our Greek Orthodox parish will provide for them? What role do we expect our Church to play in their spiritual growth and development? What can they learn from observing us, their parents and grandparents, striving to build for the future of their faith? Will it strengthen them?

We all know instinctively the answers to these questions. I believe we also know that, as those before us, we too understand certain imperatives: one being that we cannot leave to them the task of building a new sanctuary when the need is so apparent in our generation.

But can it be done? Yes! Each steward of our church must make a sacrificial gift—a gift that will reflect the significance of our Church and faith in our lives. For each of us, there is an appropriate sacrificial gift in accordance with our means. We have all read the Gospel and understand the lesson of the poor woman whose small gift was the most generous of all, because for her it was not from her abundance but from her heart!

There are over 600 families, stewards of St. Demetrios Church, that have not yet pledged. The budget approved by the General Assembly is $6.2 million of which over 47% is already pledged. We ask that you make your pledge payable up to three years in order to invite the most significant gifts that you and your family can make. Understood in this manner, it is abundantly clear that WE WILL DO THIS. Please make the most generous pledge in accordance with your means this month. On your pledge card, you may choose to be recognized or remain anonymous. Very simply, there is no greater cause as Orthodox Christians that bears more directly on our lives than this once in a lifetime pledge towards building our new St. Demetrios Church.

SAINTLY LIVES

ST. HERMIONE Commemorated September 4

St. Hermione was the daughter of one of our greatest saints, St. Philip the Deacon. Early in her life, it became obvious to her family and friends that she had amazing skills as a healer. In the coming years, she dedicated all of her time, energy and creativity to healing sickness, both physical and spiritual.

When the Roman Emperor Trajan heard of her gifts, he attributed them to witchcraft and commanded that she appear before him, thinking he might put her abilities to use for his own selfish reasons. When she refused to be exploited by him, he had her publicly flogged. Trajan’s successor, Hadrian, had a similar dislike and fear of Hermione’s gifts. She suffered much under his rule as well and was imprisoned for years, but all the while she stayed faithful, healing and bringing many to the faith—not to mention many prison guards!

And on the day when Hadrian commanded that she be executed, the newly converted guards broke her out of her dungeon and whisked her away to the safety of the local hills. There she lived and ministered for many years, converting those around her, healing and teaching. When she eventually fell asleep in the Lord—most traditions hold that she was eventually martyred—her disciples carried on her ministry for years to come, never forgetting the example she had set for them as a loving, compassionate healer of God’s people.

Getting Practical: Is your daughter enamored with Hermione Granger, the clever little sorceress of the Harry Potter book/movie series? Why not share the beautiful story of St. Hermione with your daughter, and open her eyes to the holy life of the “real Hermione.” Meeting her interest with your knowledge, creativity and energy will make all the difference.

HOPE & JOY: Another Great Year Arrives

Join us after Liturgy (in the Library) for a brief parent meeting on 9/12, when we’ll make plans for our Family Night on 10/1 and the Prayerful Pumpkin Carving on 10/16. And join us for the upcoming parish hike to Noanet Peak (Dover, MA) on 9/18. This is a beautiful, 2 mile round trip hike that all our families can enjoy, featuring smooth trails, an old mill and great views from the peak. What a terrific way to start our year—look for the sign-up poster outside the Narthex and save the date. We’ll carpool from the Church at 9:30 am. TIME

by Fr. Alex

"The sun is the same in a relative way, but you're older. . . ."

In high school, I spent many an hour listening to Pink Floyd's "Dark Side of the Moon." I'd lie around for hours with my Walkman (this is now considered an antique), taking in every word and note. I knew what I was hearing was important but didn't exactly know why. As I look back, I discover more and more; things become clearer. You may recognize the lines above from "Time," a song that speaks of missed opportunity and the mystery of aging. Though everything looks the same to us today, not everything is. We're "older." And the journey from 17 to 40 was in the blink of an eye.

Knowing this, we need to become aware of how precious time is—time with our friends, with our family, with our own creativity and interests, and especially with God. As humans, we constantly kid ourselves into thinking we've got an endless reserve of time, that we're going to live forever. That there's always some "other," more opportune time in the future to nurture our relationship with God.

That other time has to be now. Nothing in our lives is forever. We can run out of time tomorrow, one hour from now, several minutes from now. And what does it mean to invest time in this relationship, to reconnect with God? It can mean prayer; it can mean changing our lives; it can mean focusing more on the precious relationships with those we love. It can mean different things to different people. Only God knows our secret hearts. We know what we have to do to make things right.

And a key part of coming closer to Him is recommitting to Divine Liturgy. The hymns, the prayers, the holy vision we share during these services provide answers that can't be found elsewhere. When we come, we build our relationship with Him; when we bring our children and loved ones, we build our relationships with them as well. We share in God's love; we share our love with one another.

This fall, think about time—how much do you have? How much can you afford to waste? How much has already slipped away from you? What can you afford to put off? Start praying hard again. Start talking to Him. Start appreciating what you have right before you.

Come to Liturgy, come on time and teach those who look up to you to come on time as well. Our children and grandchildren look to us constantly, wide-eyed and trusting. Let's teach them well.

You'll be showing them, through your inspired actions, that time is precious . . . and that time with God is priceless.

QUESTIONS OF FAITH: REAL QUESTIONS FROM OUR CHURCH SCHOOL STUDENTS

Q: "Fr. Alex, when was St. Demetrios' birthday?"

A: James, while we don't know the exact birthday of St. Demetrios, we do know something even more important—the day he gave his life for God, Oct. 26. This is his real "birthday" and is also the day of his feast, as well as the nameday of our parish. When it comes to the saints, the day that they gave up everything for God, and went to Heaven to finally be with Him, is the most important day of their lives and the one we remember most. This is a new "birth" for them because they're starting a new life in God's Kingdom. What better gift could there be for any of us?

Thanks for the great question! —Fr. Alex

ST. DEMETRIOS YOUTH RETURN FROM HABITAT FOR HUMANITY MISSION

by Sophia Koukoulas

Barbara Cambus and I recently returned from a mission trip where we spent a week (June 13-20) working with Habitat for Humanity to assist in the construction of a new home for a needy family in the St. Tammany Parish of New Orleans. The trip was sponsored by the Greek Orthodox Metropolis of Boston. With the support of many, we went to assist those individuals who tragically lost their homes by Hurricane Katrina in 2005.

For the majority of the week we were assigned to one house where we worked with a group to put up siding on the outer walls of this home. Even the hottest of days in New England could not compare with the heat we felt while standing up on the scaffold in the hot Louisiana sun. Our motivation to work through the heat came from the encouraging members of Habitat as well as the locals we worked with that were completing their hours in order to qualify for the home we were working on.

Although we did not complete a whole house, we were able to make significant progress on the one we worked on. In fact, in the East St. Tammany Parish where we worked, which is just outside of Louisiana, there has been a total of 125 homes built through Homes for Habitat.

In closing, Barbara and I wanted to thank those members of the church who supported our mission and would like you to know that your help made a big difference to those people in the East St. Tammany Parish area where we worked. If you have not donated to the cause, you are still able to. The support you give through your donations and your prayers are greatly appreciated. Thank you again for all your support!

Donations should be forwarded to the Church office and made payable to "Metropolis of Boston Service Mission Trip"; the annotation should reference "Sophia Koukoulas & Barbara Cambas"

For more than 20 years, scholarships have been awarded to worthy and dedicated students at both schools to assist them with their tuition expenses.

Retired Clergy and Widowed Presbyteres Benevolent Fund:

This program was founded and established by the late Fr. John Zanetos on April 26, 1998. The monies raised through this commitment will be donated in support of our retired clergy, or widowed presbyteres, who are facing financial difficulties.

ADULT EDUCATION

"Come and See": A Significant Theme for a Significant Year

For 2010-11, all of our ministries—youth & adult—will revolve around the theme of "Come and See." Whether it's the life of our patron saint, St. Demetrios, the power of community, or the rich teachings of a parable, our educational goal for the year is to help all of our parishioners "see" Christ and our faith through new eyes. Now engaged in our "Building On Our Faith" program, it's all the more important to remember who we are, why we gather at St. Demetrios, and what our faith community really is all about. As Philip challenged Nathaniel, this year let us also "come and see" our beloved Lord with invigorated love and a refreshed perspective.

ORTHODOX LIFE MINISTRY

"Come and See: the Saints of Our Faith"

This year's first mini-course will be taught by Dr. James Skedros and will begin on Tuesday, September 14 and run for five consecutive Tuesdays (through Oct. 12, 7 – 8:30 pm). With Jim's guidance, we'll see the lives of our saints in a new way—recognizing their struggles, spiritual triumphs and the legacy of hope and faith they've left for us. As always, feel free to bring friends, neighbors or colleagues from work. Everyone is invited to attend, and no previous knowledge of scripture is required for this approachable program.

MEDIA, WITNESS AND OUTREACH

MIRACLE KITCHEN: VOLUNTEER HELP NEEDED

As we embark on our 27th year of unbroken monthly service to the Framingham Salvation Army's meals program, we currently find ourselves in need of new helpers and volunteers. Since this mission team is open to all members of our parish—men and women alike—we would like to hear from those willing to share a few hours once a month to help our faithful workers prepare and serve meals for approximately 150 guests. We would also happily welcome assistance from any organizations within our St. Demetrios family to help us maintain and keep this vital ministry available to the needy and hungry of our area. For further information or to offer your services, please call Dorothea Ocnos, coordinator, at (508) 877-5954.

FR. MANIKAS LIBRARY: BOOK OF THE MONTH

AN INVITATION TO THE SPIRITUAL JOURNEY by John P. Gorsuch

"Something vital is born in us when trust takes root. Something from the ground of life stirs in us once we build on our experiences of God enough to consider moving through our resistances and fears. The promise of something better pulls at us. We are ready to move another step. How do we begin?"

Mr. Gorsuch invites us to join him in answering this question, and he encourages us to face the consequences of a "cluttered" life by learning to trust the inner workings of the Holy Spirit.

We have set aside this book in our Recommendation Shelf. Come and visit our library soon and check us out.

EXCITING NEW ADDITIONS AT THE ST. DEMETRIOS BOOKSTORE

Selections include The Gurus, the Young Man and Elder Paisios and also Your Baby's Baptism in the Orthodox Church. There is also a beautiful display of icons, which can be custom-ordered, and ask us about "Save Light" solar-operated lights which can be used in the home or outdoors.

PHILANTHROPY and SOCIAL ACTION

Contact Lydia Santangelo to help: lydiaeventsplst@aol.com.

ST. FRANCIS HOUSE & "BRIDGE" WORK CONTINUES
